

Amendments to the Specification:

Please amend the paragraph beginning on page 4, at line 3 as shown below:

The vehicle appliance may further include a hands-free telephone system. In this case, the system further includes a Bluetooth®enabled cell phone operable to communicate with the communications module of the vehicle appliance in order for a driver of the vehicle to make a cell phone call using voice commands. The device ~~and the device~~ and the cell phone wirelessly communicate with one another via the communications module of the vehicle appliance and the communications module and the transceiver of the garage door opener.